THIS IS NOT THE WAY TO TRAVEL--Last Wednesday, Dec. 4, at the height of the afternoon homecoming traffic, Mrs. Gwendolyn Nelson was northbound on first street.

She started to go across the heavily traveled Campbell Ave., but apparently failed to see a car driven by Henry Karl Beck, 19, who was west bound on Campbell.

The Nelson auto clipped the Beck's vehicles' left rear fender. Beck slammed on the brakes, skidded west and south across the double line and hit the above pictured car, overturning it. The car was being driven by Robert Davis, 37 of 3076 Vistmont Dr., San Jose.

Beck's car then spun around and came to rest with his right rear against the left side of a parked car owned by Frank Whitham, 1692 Castro Dr., Campbell.

The Davis car was totaled out, and he suffered injuries; Mrs. Nelson was issued a complaint for failing to yield right of way; Beck received a complaint for driving too fast for the traffic conditions.

Impressive ceremony dedicates Gomes Park

From Saturday morning when some two dozen volunteers magically constructed the framework until Tuesday morning when high winds forced dismantlement, the wrapping and dedication of Joseph V. Gomes Park was a lesson in community teamwork.

The 40 plus panels of children's art work which transformed the the exterior and interior "walls" of the park, gift-wrapped in silver foil, into a gigantic Christmas card, were just part of the demonstration of civic effort.

Miraculously, the weather held for Sunday's dedication ceremonies, attended by 250 interested citizens and contributors to the community-built park on Winchester Blvd. and Alice Ave.

Members of the Gomes family, councilmen, Supervisor Ralph Merhkens, local clergy, parks commission members, and faithful workers applauded when master of ceremonies, Jeanette Watson and Mrs. Lawrence Tober presented two special award certificates to Floyd Little, a heavy financial contributor, and to George Kikuchi, park designer.

A reception for donors following the ceremony was held at Campbell Elementary School.

Photos above tell the story of the gift-wrapping and dedication starting with the Saturday framework building in the upper left corner.

Moving across, the pictures show the installation early Sunday morning of the posters and then shots of the outside of the park.

The lower panels were taken at the dedication, showing on the left; the crowd assemblying before the ceremony, entering the park, viewing the inside, and some of the entertainment, the Sauerkraut Five from Campbell High School.

Photos below show Don Hebard, parks commission chairman, giving the address of welcome and Dean Chamberlin, councilman, accepting the park from Mrs. Watson for the city.

The giant Christmas card at the bottom of the page was signed by all the workers and contributors to the park and will remain in the park during the holiday season.

City to build in 1969

In 1969 the City of Campbell will embark on the largest building program in the city's history, City Manager Bob Stephens said this week.

Campbell's long-awaited corporation yard, on Dillon Ave. at a cost of almost $160,000 will be the first major city construction project for 1969, according to Stephens.

And the fire station on Sunnyoaks estimated to cost about $300,000 will be the second project undertaken in the year.

By the end of 1969, the city expects to have acquired all the necessary land for the civic center and construction of the $1.2 million project is expected to begin in 1970.

The corporation yard will not be built with bond funds, the city manager noted. It will be completed under a unique financing arrangement with the Equitable Leasing Co. of Burbank.

The City Council is expected to award the contract at the next meeting to Pete Cristich & Sons of Campbell for the corporation yard for the low bid of $158,440. (Cristich was the low bidder of seven submitted).

The leasing firm will advance the money to Cristich and the City of Campbell will pay it back over a period of five years.

Owner asks extension for sub-standard cabins

Are the one-room cabins that were found to be "uninhabitable" two years ago when they were ordered demolished still in the same unlivable condition?

That is what the City Council aims to find out before acting on the request for an extension in time for the demolition of the cabins

Campbell councilmen are scheduled to receive a full report at the next meeting, Thursday, Dec. 19, on the habitable condition of the 17 cabins at the Campbell Trailer Court at 117 Gilman that had been ordered demolished by next January 10 by the city.

The new owner of the property, Mrs. Alice Ferrish, has requested an extension of time for the demolition which was specified in an agreement between the city and the previous owner, Harold Strickland, which was approved on Jan. 10, 1967, almost two years ago.

Strickland sold the property to Mrs. Ferrish in August, 1968. The new owner admitted to the Council, however, that she was aware of the conditions of the agreement when she purchased the property.

She added that due to the critical housing shortage her tenants had been unable to find other places to live and she indicated that was the basis of her request to the Council.

City Attorney Joe Bonacina explained that the conditions in the agreement are supported by a corporate surety bond and that the

Through traffic may end on Whiteoaks

If the suggestion made by the city's public works director at the last City Council meeting is approved by the City Council and then by the Division of Highways, Whiteoaks Road may be closed to through traffic north of Redding Road.

A full report is expected at the Jan. 13, 1969 City Council meeting.

A petition from 92 residents in the unincorporated area on the street was presented to the City Council asking that Whiteoaks which connects Highway 17 with Bascom be closed because of the heavy through traffic that

HOW RUMORS START....

We couldn't help thinking how easy it would have been to have started a rumor the other day when two of the San Jose Mercury-News big vans were parked in front of our joint.

Someone could have said in observing the trucks that it certainly "looked as if" the Mercury-News had taken over The Campbell Press.

Then a party who had heard just part of the statement might say that he "heard" that the Merc-News had definitely taken over The Press.

The next report might be that it had been "reliably reported" that the Merc-News had actually taken over The Campbell Press.

Then we would be contacted and, although we would vehemently deny it, many would refuse to believe us.

By some we would be accused of merely being coy about the whole bit.

As most of you know, a newspaper cannot afford to print rumors, even if there seems to be some grain of truth in 'em.

There are such things as libel laws.

But, admittedly, most of us in the trade at times wish we could publish with immunity just a few of the rumors that we run across.

There have been some real juicy ones, as you can imagine.

In case someone might have wondered about why the Merc-News trucks were parked in front of our place, the drivers were next door at Chuck Kidd's Broiler having coffee.

No rumors.

And no sale.

TO SET THE RECORD straight also in another matter.

Mayor Bill Smeed and his wife, Bev, will attend the national municipal congress in New Orleans.

But the city is NOT picking up the tab for Bev.

The city merely pays air fare and meals and lodging for Councilmen...Not their wives.

We understand that there are some cities (undoubtedly more flush than Campbell is) that pick up the tab for city councilmen AND their wives.

This raises an interesting point.

Say a city happens to be that generous and in cases where there are women on the councils, does the city pay the expenses for the husbands?

If you are interested, we will try to find out for you.

BEING TAKEN FOR granted is one of the crosses that those of us who operate community newspapers apparently must bear.

But we don't have to like it.

This "cross" is especially evident when major community events are taking place.

News media from the "outside" then often take notice of the town for a change.

The "outsiders" are often commended publicly for their 'wonderful" support while the little old community weekly is overlooked. Or, to put it another way, "taken for granted."

There are some who under such circumstances, would smoulder silently.

But we are of a different breed.

Or had you noticed?

We resent merely being "taken for granted" and don't care who knows about it, even if it is the board of directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Your local newspaper has an important part to play in community development and its role should be recognized.

True that is a very provincial attitude to take.

But this is a very provincial newspaper.

We happen to be the sole news medium in the world primarily concerned about Campbell.

And we really ARE concerned.

'Temporary' status

As the year 1968 draws to a close, The Campbell Press again wishes to restate its position on any future building program for the West Valley College.

We are well aware that next year (1969) will be an eventful one for the West Valley Junior College District, for the Saratoga campus will be put into operation.

This will be an outstanding milestone in the rather checkered career of the junior college district which has been in existence for five years and has operated from temporary quarters in Campbell since the fall of 1964.

And despite the construction of a number of facilities on the Saratoga campus, the "temporary" college site will continue to be needed.

When the college opens in the fall of 1969, it will mark the start of the sixth year for the temporary site in Campbell.

And, as far as we know, no deadline has been set as when the college facilities in Campbell will be closed.

As far as we know, no "phasing-out" program has been adopted by the college board.

In other words, "temporary" seems to mean in this case "indefinite".

We concede, of course, that the district faces horrible fiscal problems. It must provide facilities for a huge enrollment on a pay-as-you-go-basis because of the failure of past bond issues.

That has been a herculean task and the district administration should be commended for the accomplishments in face of such odds.

We also realize that without the passage of a bond issue, piece-meal construction of facilities is the only alternative.

We concede all that.

But what we dislike is the failure of the governing board, the college administration and the advisory committee to recognize how disturbing "temporary" can be to a community that is attempting to pull itself up by its own bootstraps by carrying out definite plans for its future.

Perhaps it is impossible for the district to pinpoint just when the college will no longer need its temporary quarters in Campbell.

Very definitely it is an "iffy" situation.

On the other hand, we are firmly convinced that the district officials should take definite steps to become permanently entrenched in Campbell.

College facilities on a permanent basis in this town will be welcomed.

But we hold that a continuous "temporary" arrangement satisfies no one.

Surely that must be obvious to the district officials and their advisor.

Maybe we are naive about the intricacies of college facilities.

But it seems to us that it should be possible to work toward building a permanent campus facilities within this city just as it is in Saratoga.

Perhaps we are being too logical in that approach.

Our solution is too simple.

We maintain that it would make sense to find a permanent spot in Campbell and put up permanent facilities rather than to continue indefinitely on a "temporary" basis.

The site that the West Valley College has used in Campbell since 1964, the old Campbell Grammar School at Winchester between Campbell and Latimer, is of vital importance in the future plans for this city.

Within two years, the city will expend several millions of dollars in the construction of a civic center, just a few blocks away from the temporary college campus.

Plans are also pending for a multi-million dollar development at Bascom and Campbell avenues.

Close observers of the scene believe that these developments will tend to revitalize the entire area.

We would like to see the West Valley College in some manner become a part of this city's permanent future.

But we think it is totally unfair to the permanent residents of this city for the college to retain its indefinite temporary status, detracting from the overall improvement of the city.

And, as we have editorially stated previously, we cannot support any future bond issue for the college unless there is a provision made for some permanent college facility within the city limits of this city.

munity newspaper such as The Campbell Press.

And these so-called "fringe benefits" often more than make up for the barbs and darts that we must duck at times.

Take as a for instance, Campbell's newest park, officially designated by City Council action as the "Joseph V. Gomes Park".

The park was dedicated and accepted Sunday in one of the most novel and impressive programs in this city's history.

The park is named after the late Joseph V. Gomes, a Campbell native and a graduate of Stanford Law School, who left his law practice to farm the home ranch within the city limits.

Gomes served on the first city council (in 1952) and for 21 years was a member of the Campbell Union High School District board of trustees.

Naming the little garden spot the "Joseph V. Gomes Park" recognized an outstanding civic leader who was always extremely loyal to his native community and who worked for its betterment at all times.

With pardonable pride we point out that the original suggestion to name the park after Joe Gomes was made in an editorial of The Campbell Press on Nov. 11.

The sincere appreciation expressed to us by members of the Gomes family for our editorial suggestion is one of those "fringe benefits" we mentioned that sort of make up for the rough spots.

Incidentally, the family was completely unaware of our intentions and had no knowledge of the editorial beforehand.

NATURALLY WE ARE pleased that the City Council followed our recommendation in naming the little park.

But the Council emphasized that no policy or precedent was being set in this case.

We think that is wise.

Why there should be a "policy" for naming parks anyway?

Name 'em as they come up to bat and not just to avoid controversial opinions.

Although we believe that it is too darn impersonal to name parks after streets, we concede that, as Councilman Ralph Doetsch pointed out, a street name helps to locate a park.

That could be important in a big city maybe, Ralph, but not in Campbell.

AND SURELY THAT attractive little park around those two stately and historical walnut trees at the railroad on Campbell Ave., (this city's only landmark) deserves a better name than merely "Harrison Park".

Unless, of course, we wanted to name it after some person by the name of Harrison.

It was pointed out during the council discussion in a memo from Don Hebard, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission, that, although there was no official policy to name parks after streets, it had become the practice.

He listed the names of the city parks...

You know, Campbell, Virginia, Alice, Rincon and HARRISON.

Now there is nothing wrong with the name Harrison.

Some of our best friends have that name.

But Harrison, in this case, designated the street where those two stately walnuts, planted by a descendant of Ben Campbell, founder of the town, are located.

Even Mayor Bill Smeed sort of lost his cool on that one.

He agreed with our contention that surely the town could do better than that for its one and only landmark.

Have you any suggestions?

Stolen guns from Campbell High found; 3 boys booked

Two small boys, age seven and nine, saw two big boys, both 16, boosting another boy, 17, through the window of the women's rest room of the Campbell High School auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 28.

The two little boys realized that the big boys weren't supposed to be entering the school in that manner, and so hailed Officer D.A. Stefani of the Campbell Police department. Stefani agreed with the little boys, and on investigating the scene, with Robert Culp, school principal, discovered a Campbell high school senior inside the auditorium where he had no business being.

Further investigation led to the discovery of the gun safe stolen over the Thanksgiving holiday from the Campbell R.O.T.C. unit, which had contained six 45 calibre pistols, gun magazines and assorted equipment. The safe was dismantled and the guns missing.

Further questioning led to the Campbell boy revealing that he had stolen the guns, passed half of them on to a friend in Redwood City and arranged at that time for two other friends to help him remove the safe. He had dragged the safe into the rest room, inside the Campbell auditorium, forced open the tool cabinet and used the tools to dismantle the safe the next day.

While the first boy was being questioned, police officers apprehended the two "boosters". A thorough search of the car used by the boys turned up half of the guns and the other half were recovered from the grounds of the Sequoia High School in Redwood City. All three older boys were booked into juvenile hall.

John Morgan, Campbell police chief, was especially pleased with the responsibility shown by the two younger boys in reporting the suspicious action to the police department and commended them very highly for their action.

Cabins

owner and his successors are held liable to the agreement.

The city attorney said that the agreement specified that all 17 cabins were to have been removed by the end of the two year period or sooner.

Bonacina also said that Wally Byron, city building official, had reported to him that during the past several weeks, at least 13 gas leaks had been discovered in six cabins and that it had been necessary to shut off the gas service.

Al Madsen, manager of the property reported that most of the people living in the cabins were on welfare or on retirement income and could not afford to pay higher rent.

During the discussion, Councilman Homer Hyde claimed that there always had been a problem with the cabins and there still would be a problem, is an extension was granted for any period of time.

Mayor Bill Smeed agreed with Hyde's point. He said that the Council found the cabins to be uninhabitable two years ago and that the owner had indicated that as the cabins would become vacant he would not rent them again. The renters have had two years to find other housing.

Obviously that had not been done, the mayor added, agreeing with the position previously made by Councilman Ed Rogers.

Councilman Dean Chamberlain maintained, however, that the cabins were better than a street or a vacant lot for the people and that an extension should be granted to allow the renters to find other housing.

The motion to defer the matter to Dec. 19 for the full report on the conditions of the cabins, including the gas leaks and other problems, was made by Councilman Ralph Doetsch and unanimously carried.

Another motion by Councilman Rogers that City Manager Bob Stephens be directed to contact the County Housing Authority to help find housing for the cabin renters was also adopted unanimously.

Whiteoaks Road

Maintaining Whiteoaks as a through street was a modification of the original proposal of the state which would have closed Whiteoaks at the freeway offramp.

Commercial and industrial property owners on the street however, had requested that it remain open. The city was subsequently successful in getting the state to modify its plans.

The suggestion made by Bill Wren, public works director, would create an isolated residential loop between Redding and Whiteoaks and would provide access to the industrial parcels.

Most of the Whiteoaks Road residents who were present at the council meeting indicated that they would favor Wren's proposal. Those speaking at the meeting included John Turner, 1675 Whiteoaks Road; Lewis Sayers, 1480 Whiteoaks Road and Mrs. Pearl Peffley, 1745 Whiteoaks Road.

Charles Torroni, a commercial property owner, told the Council he approved having the street opened all the way but closing it at Redding might be workable.

Before the street can be closed, City Attorney Joe Bonacina informed the Council, formal public hearings on the question would have to be scheduled.

During the discussion on the public works director's suggestion, Councilman Ralph Doetsch pointed out that the seven houses within the Campbell city limits that are on the street would be difficult to service by the city. (The route would be from Bascom to Redding). Doetsch suggested that maybe it would be wise to disannex the area.

Del Mar High gives break to senior citizens

Senior citizens in the Del Mar High School attendance area will be able to attend home athletic contests and musical and dramatic events, according to a novel project adopted by the student council of Del Mar.

The purpose of the program, according to George Miskulin, Del Mar principal, is to encourage senior citizens to continue to identify with the school as well as to thank them for their interest and support of public education both past and present.

Those interested in taking advantage of the program will be issued courtesy cards at no charge.

Cards may be obtained at the main office at Del Mar High between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. A calendar of events will be issued with the cards.

Prospect Pulse

By Pat Hebard

The Prospect choir took a first at the San Jose Civic auditorium last Friday. Director Mr. Larry McCommas took our choir to the festival Friday morning to return that evening with the honors.

They competed with schools who have attended this music festival for 35 years. Also last week the Choral Ensemble and the orchestra went to the Hyatt House in San Jose to perform for the National Safety Council. This busy week also included a performance at the Kiwanis club in Campbell. A special thanks goes to Mr. McCommas for opening up these opportunities for the Prospect choir.

Basketball season opened for the Panthers last Friday. They lost Friday evening but were victorious against out-of-league Sunnyvale Saturday night with a score of 64-59.

Last Saturday evening Prospect students were invited to Blackford's dance featuring the WEIRED HAROLD. Many of the students who went to Blackford last year came along with their new friends from Prospect.

The first Christmas Dance in the history of Prospect-High school is scheduled for this Friday evening. The semi-formal affair will start at 8.

Girls' Sports had their first meet in hockey and basketball with Del Mar high on Thursday afternoon. The two hockey teams came home with victories for both. The basketball teams also were victorious. Hockey manager is Beth Stolle and basketball manager is Jan Otto.

The Christmas spirit is moving in on the Panther student body as students prepare for their first Christmas program. The Christmas program is a gift to the public by the Prospect students. It will be presented Dec. 19-20. Mr. Larry McCommas will direct the students. All are invited.

Del Mar Dateline

By Janice Hallyburton and Molly Ford

Loren Toews, one of Del Mar's finest athletes was voted best back of the year by the Bay Area Chapter of the National Football Foundation. Loren was graded on his athletic ability and performance, his scholastic achievement and his team leadership. Loren has been an honor student during all of his four years at Del Mar and he was captain of the Don's football team and is now captain of basketball.

"Firelight and Frost" is the theme for the Christmas ball at Del Mar. It will be held Dec. 13, at which time the Christmas Queen will be announced. The candidates for queen are; Pat Conn, Karen Difiore, Molly Ford, Chris Lundquist and Mickie Vitale. The 25-foot Christmas tree was chopped down in the Santa Cruz mountains by two husky seniors, Steve Culbertson and Meldo Hankins.

The Don's basketball team was victorious over Cupertino (62-46). Steve Wiens, Tom Casey, Tom Rasch, John Zetterquest and Loren Toews played a great game which we hope will be carried out the entire season. Good Luck, boys!

County personel board studies employee relations ordinance

A proposed county ordinance providing an employee-management relations procedure is under study by the County Personnel Board.

A committee of two board members have been designated to meet with spokesmen for the employees and County management to resolve disagreements on the text before Dec. 13.

The differences were raised during a Personnel Board public hearing on the ordinance.

The issues revolve around the use of the term "meet and confer in good faith" as opposed to "negotiate" as proposed by the employee organizations, and the question of whether mediation will be written into the ordinance as the ultimate step in resolving disputes between County management and County employees.

The County at present deals with 13 employee organizations.

The proposed ordinance provides for the establishment of "bargaining units" or groups of employees similar to the practice of private industry-labor relations.

The employees will select the organizations to represent them by petitioning the Board of Supervisors. If a majority of the employees in a bargaining unit petition for one organization and it is not challenged by another organization, it will be recognized.

If more than 30 per cent but less than 50 per cent of the employees petition for a bargaining organization the State Conciliation Service will be requested to conduct an election.

The two board members designated to assist the employee and management spokesmen in settling the disputed language are Mrs. Joan Harrison and Franklin S. Rawson.

The proposed ordinance was developed over several months of employee-management conferences and it is intended to meet recent State requirements for a public employee relations procedure, according to Harold Rosen, County Personnel Director.

District '4' reports on activities of fiscal year

On June 30, 1968 marked the close of the 18th year of operations by the County Sanitation District No. 4 serving the west Santa Clara Valley area.

The district provides sanitary sewerage facilities for approximately 111,000 persons and includes the cities of Campbell, Monte Sereno and Saratoga and the Town of Los Gatos.

Steve Goodman, district 4 manager and engineer, has presented the following report on operations:

The 30-square mile area of County Sanitation District No. 4 was increased by 52 acres during the past fiscal year and number of persons served by its sewerage system increased by five percent.

The sewerage system was extended, to provide for the additional service requirements, by 19 miles to a total of 360 miles of main and lateral sewers.

The 1965 expansion program of County Sanitation District No. 4 financed by a $7,500,000 bond authorization is now 77% complete and costs are within one percent of program estimates.

The sewage collected by County Sanitation District No. 4 is treated and 90 percent of its pollutants removed in the San Jose-Santa Clara Water Pollution Control Plant prior to discharge into South San Francisco Bay.

During fiscal year 1967-68 it cost $94 per million gallons to treat the District's sewage.

The 360 mile sewer system is maintained by a nine-man department, a ratio of one man per 40 miles of sewer system.

Maintenance crews, using a preventive maintenance program, removed 33 tons of debris from the sewer system during the past year, eliminating most sewer stoppages.

The district also provides 24 hour service for maintenance of street lateral sewers.

Cash reserves carried forward from the previous fisca year and income during fiscal year 1967-68 totaled, $2,468,571. Expenditures during the fiscal year amounted to $1,184,989, leaving a cash reserve of $1,283,582 at the close of the fiscal year.

West Valley College board creates ombudsman position

The West Valley College Board of Trustees has created the position of Ombudsman to help meet the needs of the "disadvantaged and unmotivated". Mac Martinez, Spanish instructor at the college, has been named to the post on an interim basis.

Purpose of the Ombudsman, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, is to "defend the rights of students and act as liaison between students and administration and/or faculty."

"The role includes the power of inquiry, negotiation and persuasion."

In accepting the interim appointment, Martinez told the Board, that, during the next few weeks, he hopes to:

Contact division heads on courses for disadvantaged and unmotivated.

Seek aid from counseling department.

Contact instructors and identify them with personal problems of students.

Seek to aid all students, not just those in minorities.

Contact work-study coordinator, help provide jobs.

Work with student body officers.

Work with State Community College Chancelor's Office.

Martinez stated that he seeks to "open channels and establish communication" in preparation for the arrival of the permanent Ombudsman, "so that he can step right in and take over." Martinez indicated that he would not be a candidate for the permanent position.

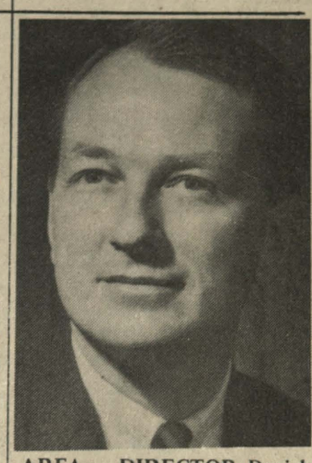
The Board also gave final approval to a contract for a paid prescription plan for pharmaceuticals for district employees and a group disability insurance plan.

Consideration was also given to creation of a "West Valley College Foundation," a private organization which would be created as a non-profit corporation by persons outside the college, for the purpose of soliciting trust funds and accepting gifts and bequests to the college.

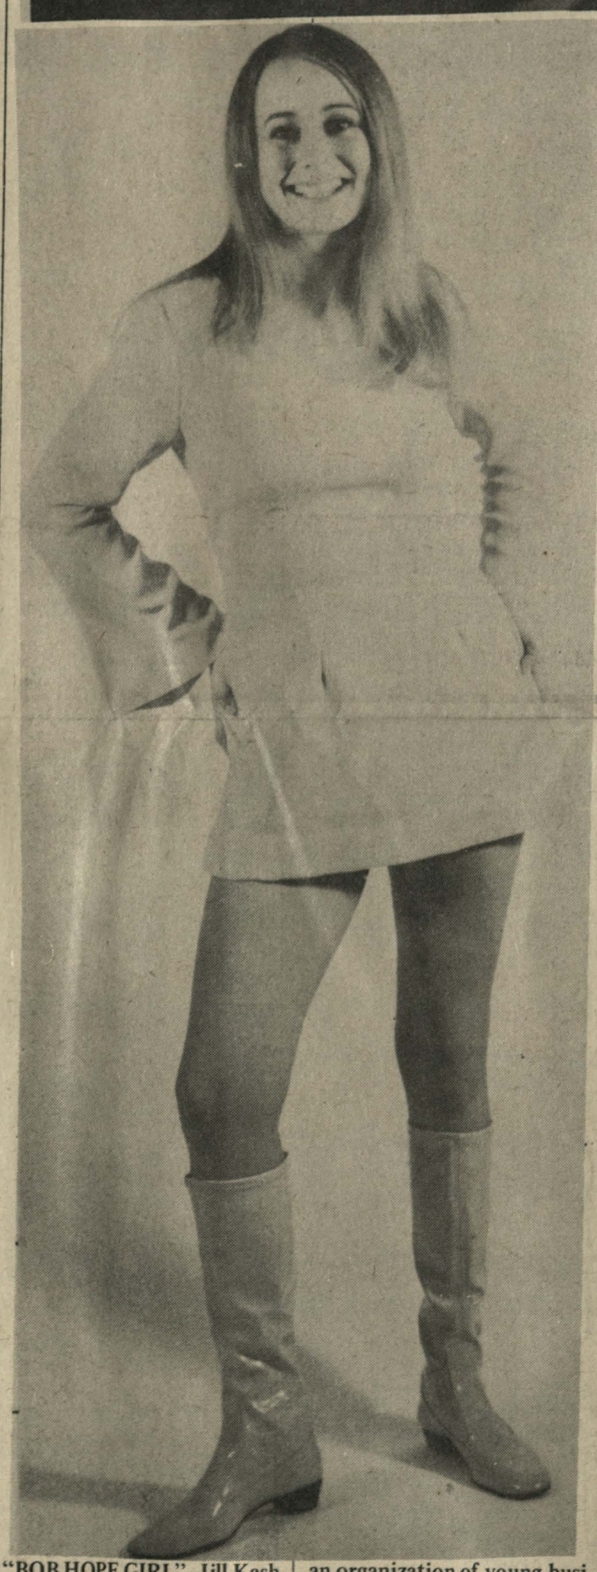
In a related matter, the Board turned over to its Advisory Committee a proposal from Mrs. Mildren Wharton, board member, the study of the feasibility of creating a community-wide group to provide an auditorium on the West Valley College campus at Saratoga.

Such a facility would serve both the community and the college, Mrs. Wharton suggested, and would not be a substitute for the proposed amphitheater on that campus. She suggested that the funds for the facility might be obtained in the name of the late Robert C. Kirkwood, Saratoga resident and former Assemblyman and State Controller.

In another related matter, the Board authorized a loan agreement with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for $1,250,000 towards the total estimated cost of $1,625,000 for the campus center.



AREA DIRECTOR--Daniel Knowles, a Campbell native and a 1949 graduate of Campbell High, has recently been appointed West Valley Area Director for General Business Services, Inc., a national counseling firm that specializes in helping small business owners and professional people. One of the services provided by the firm, according to Knowles is a unique record system. Knowles, who is married and has four children, is located at 1422 Dentwood Dr., San Jose. His mother, Mrs. Arva Knowles, has been active in local community affairs since settling here in 1920.



"BOB HOPE GIRL"--Jill Kash 369 Dunster St., will be one of 11 mini-skirted young ladies helping to send needy children to summer camps when she begins selling Christmas trees at The Guardsmen lot inside San Francisco's Palace of Fine Arts, Bay and Lyon Streets. The girls will appear Saturday and Sunday (Dec. 14-15). The Guardsmen an organization of young business and professional men, have sponsored more than 2,000 youngsters at camps each year since 1947 on funds raised through such activities. Jill and the other girls will be warming up for a special Bob Hope benefit show for the "Youth of America" organization in the Oakland-Alameda Coliseum, Jan. 29.

LIQUOR FEES

The city of Campbell has received $5,997 as its six-month share of the special fees paid by holders of alcoholic beverage licenses.

The payment was made by the state's department of alcoholic beverage control which allocates 90% of all license fee money back to individual cities and counties where it is used to offset the costs of police and fire protection, schools, highways, hospitals and other government services. The remaining 10% goes into the state's general fund where it is used for similar purposes.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 17

Sixteen Girl Scouts from Cadette Troop 13, which meets at the Congregational Church of Campbell in Bennett Hall, spent Nov. 22-24 at the Palo Alto Scout House.

Saturday the girls took a tour of the Syntex Laboratories at Stanford and on Sunday they attended the interdenominational service at the Stanford Memorial Chapel, after which they toured the grounds and visited the Hoover Tower.

While at the Scout House the girls reviewed fire-building techniques and cooked their meals out-of-doors by patrols. Both evenings found the girls gathered around the indoor fireplace singing songs and putting on skits.

Mrs. C. T. Mahler, leader, and Miss Pat Hansen accompanied the girls.

Troop 13's active schedule this year has included a Candlelight Capping Ceremony for the new Cadettes, after which all the Scouts rededicated themselves to the principles of scouting and two service projects: one, hanging Fire Prevention signs on the Campbell High School fence for the Campbell Fire Dept. and two, 20 of the girls acted as helpers for the "Haunted House", a project sponsored by the Children's Home Society's Carousel Chapter.

Lynn Crisp, Wimmer Davis, Jan Haugaard, Barbara Mahler, Carolyn Mott, April Roberts, Nancy Sandkohl, and Teri Vrevich fulfilled their Challenge of Social Dependability when they planned and carried out a Halloween Party on Oct. 30 for Troop 13 and their sister troop, Jr. Troop 669 of Dover School.

Forty-seven costumed scouts enjoyed the evening of games and refreshments (which included a "Witch" cake and punch served from a huge pumpkin) amid ghostly decorations. Mrs. F. H. Clough and Mrs. H. J. Totaro, leaders of Troop 669, also attended the affair.

On Nov. 16 the troop traveled to Palo Alto to attend the Girl Scout Arts Festival. Nancy Sandkohl received a First Place ribbon, Kathy Perston a Second Place ribbon, and Elaine Mac Donald an Honorable Mention for their entries in the Arts Festival.

Girls in the troop are: Christy Castille, Lynn Crisp, Trudi Davis, Wimmer Davis, Carol Gordon, Jan Haugaard, Beth Killmeyer, Mary Kay Lee, Barbara Mahler, Ellen Mastros, Elaine Mac Donald.

QUARTER CENTURY MEMBERS--Employees of IBM's Campbell card plant were among the participants at the annual dinner at the company's Quarter Century Club. From l. to r. are Robert E. Harrison, Campbell plant manager; Wendell Thoren and Donald DeLong, new 25-year employees; and Ledger A. Myers, 1967-68 club president. Thoren and DeLong were among the four new club members this year who joined IBM in 1943 when operations first began in Santa Clara County. New officers for 1968-69 include: Owen Humphreys, president; Clifford O. Lawler, vice president; Stanford L. Gardner, secretary and Helen E. Green, treasurer.

Campbell Club observes Rotary Foundation week

The Rotary Club of Campbell, along with the international organization's 13,300 other clubs located in 143 other countries, observed "Rotary Foundation Week", recently.

Voluntarily supported, The Foundation provides educational and vocational study programs throughout the world for bright young people, displaying signs of leadership.

Dr. Wallace Hall, president of the Rotary Club of Campbell, reports that this year the Foundation is providing $1.25 million in awards to 540 young men and women. Since 1947, more than 3,400 students, craftsmen and young business and professional men have furthered their education abroad at an approximate cost of $7 million to the Foundation.

In addition to the Graduate Fellowships and Undergraduate Scholarships, during the past three years special programs have been initiated for young craftsmen through Technical Training awards and for young business and professional men through a Group Study Exchange.

The week marks the Foundation's 51st year of service. Campbell Rotarians celebrated this special week at their meeting on Nov. 18 at the First Methodist Church.

President Hall said the "Foundation Week" program would include the annual Million Dollar Luncheon put on by the Rotary Annes, where proceeds from the lunch went to the Rotary Foundation. Jim Morelan, architect and member of the Club, spoke on his experiences as a reciprocal of this group study and his experiences in Australia for the year he was there.

GOING UNDERGROUND

Pacific Gas and Electric Company has budgeted $8.5 million in 1969 to convert existing overhead electric distribution lines to underground on main traveled streets and civic, recreation and scenic areas within its territory.

The new figure is one half million dollars more than PG &E set aside for this work in 1968.

The distribution of the total sum budgeted is determined by the number of PG&E electric customers in each locality in relation to the total number of the company's electric customers.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Recently an illiterate member of a minority race asked me to help him reinstate his registration of a small truck with which he made his living. He personally had done nothing wrong, but had made the mistake of allowing his son to own an uninsured auto which was involved in an accident where damages were incurred. So the license on his own truck was suspended and with it his chance to earn a living and pay the judgment against his son.

I contacted the appropriate state agency only to find that California's Financial Responsibility law was clearcut and nothing could be done to help the man. There was no doubt that the state officials were correct, but what struck me was their total lack of human compassion for an unfortunate man in trouble. Everything went "by the book" and there was no concern whatsoever over trying to find a possible means of helping a human being.

Recently, tomato growers in my Congressional District told me of a reluctance by canneries to buy tomatoes to be processed in Santa Clara County because the federal government must buy in counties which have high rates of unemployment. In talking with the Defense Department, I pointed out that 75% of cannery workers are now drawing unemployment insurance and insofar as they are concerned, Santa Clara County has plenty of unemployment. But the answer came back that "this is the regulation".

These seemingly unrelated items all share the coldness, the lack of compassion, and the unimaginative "live by the book" attitude which is so often found in government. It is the kind of attitude student rioters and other revolutionaries complain about when they say they want to be treated as individuals and something more than a statistic, a punch on an IBM card or data on electronic tape.
